David:

Congratulations on helping another homebuyer!

To help your buyer feel more at home, we have taken the liberty of creating a set of return address labels for you to be able to give to your buyers.

This is a service we only provide to real estate professionals for properties we inspect. Our goal is for you to be able to personally present these to your customer, creating an opportunity to deepen your relationship with them.

Thank you for the opportunity to work with your clients. Working with a professional, such as you, is one of the things that make our job easier. We hope you will be able to say the same about Clayhill Property Inspection Group after you experience our inspection service.

If there is any thing we can do to improve our service, please call and let us know.

Thank you,

Mike Lersbak
